

Expresses Delight For This Valley

Dr. Gillette of North Dakota Will Scale Mount Logan. To Lecture at Summer School.

Dr. Gillette of the University of North Dakota arrived in Logan Sunday evening for the purpose of delivering a course of lectures on rural sociology at the A. C. during the next three weeks. Dr. Gillette is a man of national reputation, having written several books one of which was used during the past year at the college as a text book in one of the courses in sociology. The officials in charge are to be complimented on their judgment in selecting such a man to deliver the special lectures at that institution this summer. The lectures begin today at 12:30 in room 107 and the public is invited without charge.

Dr. J. H. Linford met the visitor at the station and conducted him up town. It was interesting to note that he is already enthused with the beauties of our valley. He says he found Mount Logan with the aid of a glass from a long distance and decided at once that he would not leave the valley until he had scaled it. As the summer school committee has had under way plans for a summer school party up the canyon, it is likely the plans will be changed to a climb of the snowy peak, in order that the professor may have company. Details for this excursion and others will be given out later.

Dental Surgeons Finish Big Meeting

Visiting Ladies Entertained by Wives of Local Dentists.

The twenty-third annual meeting of the Utah State Dental Society came to a close Saturday, after one of the most successful conferences in the history of the society.

Owing to the heavy rain Friday night the general excursion up Logan canyon was called off. Several members of the society spent the afternoon in the canyon, however, notwithstanding the wet.

It was decided that the meeting next June shall be in Salt Lake City. The following officers were elected: President, Dr. A. C. Wherry of Salt Lake City; first vice president, Dr. W. H. Davis of Salt Lake City; second vice president, Dr. W. H. Petty of Ogden; secretary, Dr. Earl C. Fairweather of Salt Lake City; representative to the National Dental Meeting at Rochester, Dr. S. W. Wherry of Ogden; member of board of censors, Dr. D. N. White of Ogden.

Society Expresses Thanks

The business of the meeting was concluded by several votes of thanks and appreciation. A vote of thanks was tendered the Logan Dental Society for its hospitality and for the excellent arrangements which had been provided for the meeting and for the entertainment of its members. A vote of thanks and good will was tendered the Commercial Boosters club and the people of Logan for the many favors shown. A vote of thanks and appreciation was tendered the retiring officers of the society. A resolution was passed instructing the secretary to express to the guests from California, Dr. Herbert J. Samuels of Oakland, and Dr. G. Maurice Crow of Los Angeles, the hearty appreciation of the Utah State Dental Society for their presence and for the valuable papers which they read. The secretary was further instructed to express thanks and appreciation to the California State Dental Society and to the Southern California Dental Society for sending such valuable men to attend this meeting.

After the meeting Dr. Crow, Dr. Samuels and a member of other eminent visitors with their wives were entertained at dinner by Dr. and Mrs. I. P. Stewart. After the dinner the California guests motored to Cache Junction and took the train for Portland, Oregon, where they will do the same work for the Oregon State Dental Society that they have just finished here.

Ladies Entertain Visitors

On Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 the wives of the Logan dentists entertained the wives of the visitors at the Agricultural College. A delightful luncheon was served, after which the ladies were taken over to the Thomas Smart gymnasium which was tastefully decorated with flags, pennants, cozy corners, etc., for the occasion. There they played bridge or chatted for an hour or two after which they visited the swimming class for girls conducted by Miss Charlotte Stewart. Later Miss Stewart and Miss Ballantyne illustrated some of the new social dances. An orchestra was in attendance and refreshments were served.

The dentists and their wives have made many warm friends in Logan who will look forward with pleasure to seeing them here again.

Joel Rich of Paris, ex-sheriff of Bear Lake county, was in the city yesterday to meet his wife who has been in Salt Lake for a visit. Incidentally he was visiting with his brother George, one of the leading legal lights of this community.

Two young men in a buggy have been pestering young girls of this city of late and on Sunday arrests were made by the juvenile officers. These young men have been riding over the city and trying to entice the young girls to take rides with them. Numerous complaints have been made to the officers and it looks as if the worst of these culprits have at last been apprehended.

J. E. Shepard, cashier of the Cache Valley Banking Company is home again from Price where he recently went to attend the Sixth annual convention of the Utah Bankers association. He says the convention was a great success. There were a great many of the leading banks of the state represented. We wish to congratulate Mr. Shepard for the recognition bestowed upon him by the convention of the organization.

Should Logan Enter Clean City Contest?

Leading Business Men, Officials, Educators, and Others Express Their Favorable Opinions.

In order to find out what the sentiment of the people is on entering the Clean City contest a representative of The Republican called on a number of well known men in town and talked the matter over with them. The list is not nearly so long as we expect to make it, but every man interviewed expressed himself favorably. We regret that we have not been able to see several men whose opinions would carry much weight, but we hope to call on them later and publish their statements. Below is a number of brief statements:

Mayor P. A. Thatcher—"I am in favor of anything that will make Logan a more beautiful place to live in. I am not in favor of entering the clean city contest, however, unless we can effect an organization that will get results. To enter the contest and then not accomplish anything would be worse than not to enter. If I can be of any service in helping the movement along you can count on me to do all in my power."

President Widtsoe of the Agricultural College—"I think we should enter the contest, not because Logan especially needs cleaning up, but because a city of our size should be an example to other cities in the state, which we could be by lending our support to civic improvement work of this kind."

President S. F. Ballif of Cache Stake—"We should make every effort possible to clean up and beautify our city. I shall lend my most hearty support to any movement which promises to make Logan a cleaner and better city."

President C. N. Jensen of the Brigham Young College—"We should enter the contest by all means. With our excellent irrigation and water systems, our wide streets and splendid natural scenery, Logan should be one of the most beautiful towns of her size in the world."

President Cardon of the Commercial Boosters Club—"I am heartily in favor of the clean city movement and will do all in my power to advance it. There is a great deal of cleaning up that needs to be done and I shall be glad to be of service in forming some sort of organization to look after it. Entering the contest won't help us unless we have an organization that will get things done."

Mr. John Christensen, vice president of the Howell-Cardon Company—"We've weeded out our saloons, now let's get busy and grub out the other weeds. The movement will have my most earnest support. I shall be glad to do all in my power to push it along."

Ex-Mayor H. G. Hayball—"Let's have a clean city. If we must enter the contest in order to do it then let's enter the contest. We ought to have pride enough to keep our town clean without any outside stimulus, but there is a great deal of cleaning up to be done. If the contest will help, let's enter it."

Mr. H. E. Crockett, Cashier of the First National Bank—"I am in favor of anything for a clean city. I think we should enter the contest at once, and work hard. Any support that I can render will be given gladly."

Commissioner George W. Lindquist—"I am in favor of anything that will make our town a cleaner and better place to live in. You may de-

A. C. Boys Win The Contest

Early last week Prof. Parley Peterson left Logan for Salt Lake, accompanied by Walter Harris and D. J. Nelson students of the commercial department of the A. C. The boys entered the typewriting contest which was held in that city and both won in their respective classes. Mr. Nelson made the highest record of any contestant, writing 85 words per minute. However, he was ruled out of winning the prize on the ground that he had worked in a commercial establishment. Mr. Nelson is not "sore." He says he realizes that there must be rules and that those rules must be followed to the letter. However, he says he had never learned anything about a machine while in business. In fact all that he knows he has learned at the A. C. during the past five months.

In the class which Mr. Harris entered, open to all second year high school students of both Utah and Idaho, Mr. Harris stood in a rank by himself, winning by a large margin. No contest was made of his accepting the prize and he received a handsome cup properly engraved. If Mr. Nelson had not been ruled out on the technicality mentioned, the results of the contest would have been a clear victory for the A. C. team. As it was every one realized the superiority of these men and sympathized with them.

Mr. Nelson showed the true A. C. spirit in accepting his defeat as a stepping stone for future successes. In speaking of his future plans, he said as he had now finished his work at that institution, having graduated with this year's class, he intended to pursue further study in some eastern university, possibly Harvard. "I shall enter the professional class next year," he said, "and if I improve as much as I have done the last five months, I should be able to do something. The commercial courses at the A. C. I consider to be the best that can be got anywhere; you know this is the only place around here where you can get a degree for work done in commerce. That is because the other schools do not offer enough work to entitle one to such distinction."

BASEBALL WEDNESDAY

The Wellsville baseball nine will be in Logan Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. to play the local nine a game on the B. Y. campus. Mr. Harry Stoney who is looking after the local team since Mr. Rose resigned, says the game will surely be played if the weather will permit. The game on Saturday was postponed owing to the condition of the grounds. The circus gave its show on the grounds and with the rain which fell Friday it was impossible to play the game as scheduled.

It should be a good game Wednesday afternoon. There has been but little local baseball of late, owing to the weather conditions but we should get out en masse and watch the local team play one of their shut out games. Schweitzer, Kidman, Allen, Rose, Skanichy, Venable, Adams, Cummings, Egbert and Hovey will probably be in the lineup.

In the game Saturday Franklin won from Hyde Park by the score of 5 to 4. Richmond took a game from Wellsville by the score of 9 to 5.
